

Open Calls for Artist Residencies at ISCP!

TAGGED <https://mailchi.mp/iscp-nyc/open-calls-for-three-fully-funded-artist-residencies-at-iscp?e=820773bee5>

Jesse Chun (left), 2019 recipient of the NEA Thematic Residency at ISCP, with studio assistant Aierell Marie Peterson, making work for the ISCP exhibition Paperwork: Administrative Practice in Contemporary Art. Photo by Brandon Marin

Open Call for National Endowment for the Arts Thematic Residency on Collectivity at ISCP

ISCP invites artist collectives working with socio-political ideas to apply for a fully-funded two-month residency, with a $9,000 stipend, by February 21, 2020.

Residency program benefits include:

- 24-hour access to a private furnished studio space
- $4,500 monthly stipend
- Commission to make new work for a group exhibition on collective practice opening at ISCP in May 2020
- Regular studio visits from Visiting Critics
- Field Trips to museums, galleries and other cultural venues
- Participation in ISCP artist talks
- And more

Eligibility: Visual artist collectives in all disciplines based in the United States (and legally eligible to work in the United States) who work collectively and have a track record of exhibitions and other projects with their collective for a minimum of two years prior to the application.

- Application deadline: February 21, 2020 at 11:50 pm
- Residency dates: April 1 – May 31, 2020
- Notification date: February 28, 2020

▶ Click here to download the application.

▶ Click here to learn more about eligibility and the application process \(scroll down\).

Sophy Naess, 2019 recipient of the ISCP Lenore G. Tawney Residency for Fiber Media Artists, at work in her third floor ISCP studio, August 2019

Open Call for the ISCP Lenore G. Tawney Residency for Fiber Media Artists

ISCP is now accepting applications for the Lenore G. Tawney Residency for Fiber Media Artists from visual artists working in, or interested in, exploring fiber media.

The two-month fully-funded residency includes living and materials stipends of approximately $2,680 per month.

Residency program benefits include:

- 24/7 access to a furnished studio
- Approximately $8,000 stipend
- Participation in Summer Open House 2020
- Opportunity to participate in ISCP artist talks
- Regular studio visits with established arts professionals
- Field Trips to museums, galleries and other cultural venues
- Access to ISCP's dynamic, in-house community of artists and curators from all over the world

Eligibility: Visual artists working in and interested in fiber media are invited to apply. Applicants must be eligible to work in the United States, and they may not be ISCP alumni or residents in another studio program at the same time as the Lenore G. Tawney ISCP residency.

- Application deadline: March 31, 2020
- Residency dates: July 1 – September 30, 2020
- Notification date: May 1, 2020

▶ Click here to download the application.

▶ Click here to learn more about eligibility and the application process \(scroll down\).

Mauro Vitturini (left) of the artist collective VOID (Arnaud Eeckhout and Mausi Vitturin), 2019 Salomon Foundation Residency Award Recipients, at Spring Open Studios. Photo by Tess Mayer

Salomon Foundation Residency Award at ISCP

Applications for the Salomon Foundation Residency Award at ISCP are now being accepted through April 26, 2020.

The award offers a six-month fully-funded residency and $24,000 stipend for an artist under the age of 35 from a country that is part of the Organisation internationale de la Francophonie.

Residency program benefits include:

- 24/7 access to a furnished studio
- $24,000 stipend
- Participation in Spring Open Studios 2021
- Opportunity to speak in ISCP artist talks
- Regular studio visits with established arts professionals
- Field Trips to museums, galleries and other cultural venues
- Access to ISCP's dynamic, in-house community of artists and curators from all over the world

Eligibility: Visual artist under the age of 35 holding a passport from a country that is part of the Organisation internationale de la Francophonie. Applicants may not have participated in a residency in the United States in the last five years. Speaking and reading capacity in English is highly desirable.

- Application deadline: April 26, 2020, at midnight Central European Standard Time
- Residency dates: January 1–June 30, 2021

► Click here to download the application and learn more about eligibility criteria.