

International Center of Photography Wants Your Images of the Pandemic

Artists, both professional and otherwise, can submit their photos on Instagram using the hashtag #ICPConcerned.

The International Center of Photography in its new home on the Lower East Side of Manhattan. Credit...Jeenah Moon for The New York Times

By Devi Lockwood

Published March 31, 2020 Updated April 3, 2020

So far, the images have a range: A woman wearing a mask and blue plastic gloves. Empty streets. A pair of dogs in a misty park. The inside of a deserted subway car. A woman hugging a tree. Two children with their faces pressed against a window.

Log in or create a free New York Times account to continue reading in private mode.

Support independent journalism.

Source: <https://www.nytimes.com/2020/03/31/arts/design/international-center-of-photography-coronavirus.html>